Idahoans with disabilities face all sorts of challenges: every day when you wake up, you're adaptive, resilient, and determined.

While Idaho's voter identification laws have changed, there are resources and help available to access voting.

The same rules apply to everyone and there are no special tests to vote in Idaho.

Idaho's voter ID laws have changed.

This November, make your voice heard on the issues you care about alongside other eligible voters with disabilities.

I have rights.

Are you eligible to vote?

You can register to vote in Idaho with a current Idaho driver's license or ID card if you:

- are 18 years of age or older
- are a United States Citizen
- have been a resident of Idaho for at least 30 days before the day of the election.

Note: individuals with a felony conviction may not register until the terms of their sentence have been completed.

What's your voter registration status?

You will need to register to vote if this is your first time voting, OR update your registration if you:

- have moved
- have changed your name
- have not voted in the past four years

Register to vote online at voteidaho.gov or contact your county clerk to register to vote in person and for additional help registering to vote.

Do you have a photo ID with your current legal name?

Idaho's voter identification laws have changed. You must have an accepted and valid photo ID to register to vote. You can register to vote with a:

- current Idaho driver's license
- federal passport
- tribal ID card
- concealed weapons license
- free voter identification card.

I have help.

What help will you need or want to access voting?

Federal law says that people with disabilities must have equal access to voting. Voting locations have to be accessible for people with disabilities. There also has to be at least one machine or system available for people with disabilities to vote privately and independently.

Will you want someone to help you vote?

You have the right to private and independent voting. You also have the right to have help voting.

You can ask poll workers or almost anyone else you would like to help you vote. A person who you ask to help you vote can never choose for you or try to influence your choices.

Contact your county clerk for additional information and help determining your eligibility or registration status.

If you experience any barriers to voter registration or exercising your right to vote, please call Disability Rights Idaho, toll-free, at 1-866-262-3462.

I have a voice.

What is the free ID for voting?

If you do not have a driver's license or other accepted form of ID for voting, you can get a free ID for voting from the DMV. To get the ID you will need to show proof of your residence and identity. Visit your local DMV office to get a free ID card for voting; be sure to indicate the ID is for voting so it will be free of charge.

If you have a disability that prevents you from accessing the DMV to get your free ID for voting, you may be able to ask for an accommodation for your disability. Contact the Idaho Transportation Department (ITD) directly to request an accommodation. You can email civilrights@itd.idaho.gov or call 208-334-8884 to make your request.

Will you vote early, by mail, or in person?

Once you're registered to vote, you have options: you can vote early, vote by mail (absentee), or vote in person on Election Day.

- To vote early in person, check with your county clerk for early voting locations
- To vote by mail (absentee), request your absentee ballot at voteidaho.gov or by mailing your completed absentee ballot request form to your county clerk's office
- To vote in person on election day, find your polling location online at voteidaho.gov
